

Visitor Guidelines

- Eating, chewing gum, and drinking (except bottled water) are prohibited inside the museum.
- Tobacco products and vaping are prohibited inside the building.
- Backpacks or large bags are prohibited inside the museum - these items must be left in your vehicle.
- Weapons are prohibited inside the building.
- Animals (except for ADA service dogs) are prohibited inside the building.
- Non-flash photography and videography are permitted inside the museum for personal use only.
- The museum is self-guided, but docents are available to answer questions and to assist with interactive/immersive exhibits.
- Please use pencils for the scavenger hunt and/or other educational activities inside the museum. Pens and markers are not allowed.
- Caught in the Crossfire is a highly realistic immersive atmosphere that simulates the Battle of Gettysburg from the perspective of a family hiding inside their home. This optional experience may be difficult for some visitors, especially young children, people who are sensitive to bright lights and loud noises, and individuals who suffer from post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).
- The museum is ADA compliant.
